Topics Discussed:

During our meeting we discussed the logo of the program and the webpage. In addition we worked on the UML of the program and did the sketches of the web page to get the idea on what we are going to work on. We developed our previous ideas on the program and the website. As we mentioned before we divided into two groups: one working on the program and the other on the webpage. Each group discussed and brainstormed about its own features. We had to discuss even between groups just to be sure.

We had several meetings this week because we had to work on the requirements specification. Because of the pandemic, we could not work together so we shared a google drive file about the requirement specification. Each of us had access and who was willing help did. The requirements specification helped us make a better idea and image of what is coming next. We mainly focused on the functional requirements, it took us some time to write them since we had to have a clear understanding and vision of all the features we are going to implement. The meetings involved people from two groups because we needed to discuss together. We discussed them in detail, trying to make the best of them. Moreover, we studied about the non-functional requirements to be able to fill them up too.

We had a discussion about the difficulties we had encountered until now regarding the project.
